Statement from VA-7 Democratic Challenger, Abigail Spanberger, on Historic Victories in Virginia

GLEN ALLEN, VA — Abigail Spanberger, Democratic candidate for Congress in Virginia’s 7th district and former CIA operations officer, released the following statement about the incredible Democratic victories in Virginia:

“Yesterday was an incredible day for Virginians. After disappointing results in 2016, so many of us focused our efforts on creating the change we want to see in our communities and Commonwealth, and we succeeded.

Voters showed up across the state and proved that when we join together and work for the change we want, we can win. We were lucky to have outstanding candidates step forward and work tirelessly for and with us. It has been truly inspiring this past year to see friends and community members come together to organize and mobilize. It was the work of our community members that paved the way for these victories.

With these victories and hard-fought races, we have more momentum than ever before to win the 7th Congressional District seat on November 6, 2018, and I will continue working until we have the representation we want in Central Virginia.”
